More than 160 people from over 30 countries registered to participate at the International Seminar on Bioenergy and Sustainable Rural Development - 5th LAMNET Project Workshop, 26 – 28 June 2003 in Morelia, México. This event was the first ever gathering of international bioenergy experts from the academic, non-governmental, official, social and private sector in México. The registration of participants was jointly organised by the Center for Ecosystem Research (CIECO) and the Mexican National Association for Solar Energy (ANES).

A large variety of bioenergy information material was made available for the participants of the international seminar.
